I: Example of how to explain assessment

Hello, my name is _____

I have come to see you because you are important and sometimes we need to check that you are happy and safe where you are living/at home with your family.

It is my job to make sure that you are safe and happy.

To do this we will talk to each other and I will listen carefully to what you want to say and what you would like to do.

Then together we will try to decide what would help you be happy and safe.

We can draw pictures, chat or play games.

I will write down what you think so I can remember.

This will help me to decide how to help.

If you or anyone else is being hurt then I will have to help make you safe.

2: Example of how to explain assessment

You are important and sometimes we need to make sure that you are happy about things like home, school, your family, or friends.

It is my job to talk to you and your family about where you live and go to school, about your family and what you like to do.

To do this I will talk to you and I will listen carefully to what you want to say.

To help us do this we have some activities like drawing, fun sheets to fill in, games that we can do to help us remember to talk about all the important things and to make it easier for you to say what you want to say.

I may need to talk to other people who can help me understand how things are for you.

Then we will decide if you and your family need anything to help keep you healthy and happy.

When I've talked to you I will write down what you tell me and this will help us to decide if anything needs to be done to help keep you healthy and happy.

I may need to talk to other people who can help to understand how things are for you.

Then we will decide if you and your family need anything to help keep you healthy and happy.

When I've talked to you I will write down what you tell me and this will help us to decide if anything needs to be done to help keep you healthy and happy.

We will decide together what you want to say in the report.

I don't have to write down everything that you say but if you or any other child is being hurt then I will HAVE TO do something to make you safe. Here is how to get in touch with me:

3: Example of how to explain assessment

Why am I having an assessment?

We need to do an assessment to make sure that you have all of the things that you need to feel happy and be healthy.

This means that I would like to talk to you about how your life is at the moment, about who you live with and other people that you see. We may also talk about what sorts of things you like to do, school or college and other places that you go, how you feel about home, school, friends and any problems that you may have.

If you have any questions or I have used any words that you haven't heard before please ASK ME and I will explain them.

What you think is very important?

I would like to hear about the things that you like about your life and what you would like to change.

I will also need to talk to the other people that know you best, parents or carers, perhaps a teacher that you get on with or someone else in your family. We can discuss who I should talk to and you can help me to plan that.

After I have talked to you I will write down what you tell me and this will help us decide if anything needs to be done to help keep you healthy and happy.

Then we will decide if you or your family or carer need extra help to make sure that you have the things that you should have and need to help keep you healthy and happy. I will write a report that will be A PLAN of what we are going to do. I will write your views into that report.

Not everything that you say needs to be written down. We will decide together what you want to say in the report and who gets to see which bits of it.

But if you or any other child is being hurt then we HAVE TO do something to make you safe.

Then I will plan a meeting where all the people who can help to sort things out will come together to think about what needs to happen next.

I will talk to you again about that meeting and we can think about how we can make sure that your views are heard there.

Here is how you can get in touch with me:

4: Example of how to explain assessment

Assessments

Why? Where? What? Who? When?

Here are some answers to questions that you may have. If you are unsure or would like more explanation about anything then just ask.

It is very important that you have your say during this time and we will do everything we can to make sure this happens.

Why an assessment?

The overall aim is to make sure that you have everything you need in order to feel happy and be healthy and safe. To make sure this is happening we need to find out how things are going for you and your family or whoever looks after you.

What will it involve?

I would like to talk to you about the things that are important to you. Like who you live with, who you see, about home, friends, college, work or other things happening for you at the moment, your plans for the future and any problems you may have. We may talk about things that you would like to change.

What happens to the information?

I will write a report with the information I have heard. I will write your views in that report. Not everything that we talk about needs to be in the report and we will discuss what goes into it.

What else?

I will also talk to other people that know you best, a parent or carer; maybe someone that you get on with well like a teacher, support worker or friend.

What then?

Then there will be a meeting where a range of people who can help to sort things out will come together and think about what needs to happen next. I will make sure that your opinions are heard at this meeting. Here we will decide if you or your family or carer need extra help to make sure that you have the things you need to help keep you healthy, happy and safe - now and in the future. I will write a plan of what we are going to do.

What kind of a say do I get in this?

It is important that your views are heard. We can decide together about who else I will talk to and who will see which parts of the report. Your opinions will be taken seriously at all times.

Something important to add

We can decide together about some parts of the process BUT if we are worried that you or another child is being hurt or is in danger then we will HAVE TO act on this to make sure you and any other children are safe.

Here is how you can get in touch with me:
